Advertisers Hear Report on Growth of Local Office At Big Banquet

Business at the local postoffice has increased 73.7 per cent in two years, Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson told the members of the Mail Advertisers' Society of California in an address delivered last night at the banquet held at the Egyptian Village cafe. Delegates from a number of cities in Southern California attended the banquet. President William R. Marshall presided, while Ryland Sizer, of the Acorn Advertising agency of Glendale, was in charge of arrangements.

The postal receipts for the local postoffice, exclusive of money order fees, amounted to $106,923.26 in 1921, Postmaster Jackson said. The amount for 1922 was $151,339.69, he said, while the figures for 1923 reached $185,686.61, and it is expected the receipts for 1924 will exceed $200,000. The personnel of the office on January 1, 1922, was

Glendale Asks Injunction To Halt Pumping From Wells In Canyon

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 19.—Water rights dating back to a court decree of November 29, 1871, when Theodore and Catalina Verdugo were awarded a canyon tract of 2,629 acres in the original partition of the once famous Rancho San Rafael, and the perpetual use of water from a spring near the foot of a hill then known as Cuchilla Francisca Maria, are elements in a suit filed today by the City of Glendale and the Verdugo Canyon Water company against William S. Sparr and H. E. Barnum.

An injunction is asked by the plaintiffs to prevent Sparr and Barnum from taking water from wells the latter have dug on land within the original tract grant, now owned by them. The property is located in the canyon now named after the original owners, Verdugo canyon.

Claim Surplus Water

Although the Verdugos and their heirs or assigns were granted the perpetual right to the water from the spring at the foot of Cuchilla Francisca Maria, water from springs originating on the other side of the hill forming the Verdugo canyon creek has been divided into 10,000 shares, of which the city of Glendale owns 6,287, the complaint alleges. The city is also entitled to all surplus water whenever there is any, it is claimed.

The wells now being sunk by the defendants would give them water in excess of that supplied from the original spring and would also diminish the flow of water belonging to the city of Glendale and the Verdugo Canyon Water company, an organization composed of hundreds of water users, it is alleged.

According to M. Walters of the Barnum-Walters company, subdividers of Sparr Heights, the city of Glendale is not depriving us of water now supplied by our original well, but is endeavoring to enjoin us from connecting up with a replacement well which they fear would give us more water rights than they want to see us acquire, and they have refused to accept our statement that our new well is to take the place of the old well.

Threats at Loeb Home of Hanging Franks' Murderers

CHICAGO, Aug. 19.—"If the court don't hang them we will. K. K. K."

This cryptic warning, propped up against a gruesome skull and bones, was found by the police last night on the veranda of Frank Harris, in Ellis avenue, just across the street from the handsome home of the family of Richard A. Loeb, now on trial with Nathan Leopold for murdering Bobby Franks.

The skull and bones were not papier mache—they were real. The symbol consisted of a leering human skull, a pair of bleached arm bones and a leg.

Police removed the grisly symbols, which they said probably had been secured from some medical college.

New Thrill Awaits Leopold And Loeb as Trial Comes to Close

By O. L. SCOTT

Special Correspondence of the Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924

CHICAGO, Aug. 19.—Dickie Loeb and "Babe" Leopold this week will get a new thrill, the experience of waiting while one man—Judge John R. Caverly—makes up his mind whether they shall live or die at the end of a rope, for the murder of young Robert Franks.

When these two millionaire thrill killers retire from the glamour of the half-million dollar trial they have provoked, to the dreary monotony of cell life while awaiting judgment, they will have witnessed the full spectacle of American justice working at top speed. There has been almost unexampled progress from the time of the murder, with the machinery of justice working evenly at every turn. Yet the killers are unsentenced after three months.

Plotted for Six Months

This shining example of the ways of justice in the modern age of new fangled mental theories had its inception on May 21. Nearly ninety days ago, the two dapper prodigies, Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, with 19 years of life and university educations back of them, equipped themselves with a pair of field glasses and a cold chisel and started forth to find a victim for the thrill murder they had plotted carefully for six months.

They were sons of millionaires, fed up on all the various "kicks" in life that money could buy. But they felt that one more thrill was needed to round out their lives. This, they decided, they could obtain by kidnaping and killing one of the neighborhood boys.

Through their field glasses they spotted Robert Franks, 14-year-old son of Jacob Franks, millionaire pawnbroker. Loeb, who had played tennis with young Franks the day before, enticed him into the automobile they had hired especially for the occasion. Leopold drove off and Loeb smashed the boy's head with the cold chisel. This done, the youths put into play their plot to obtain ransom from the father by a clever letter ruse. Two crimes carrying with them the death penalty were thus committed—kidnaping for ransom and murder.

SUMMING UP EVIDENCE BEGINS

Chicago's Sensational Trial Rushing to Quick Close Before Judge Caverly

By GEORGE R. HOLMES

For International News Service.

CHICAGO, Aug. 19.—Formal demand for the lives of Nathan F. Leopold, Jr., and Richard A. Loeb at the end of a hangman's rope, in return for the life they took when they kidnaped little Bobby Franks and beat his head in with a cold chisel, rang through Judge John R. Caverly's court this afternoon, signalizing the beginning of the end of the most sensational criminal case in American jurisprudence.

The state's first demand for the death penalty was voiced by Assistant State's Attorney Thomas Marshall, who led off a week of final argument over the fate of the two young slayers. The summing up began at 3 p. m.

Voice Pierces Courtroom

"There is but one question before this court," said Marshall, "and that is:

"What punishment is proportionate to this crime?"

"It is the prosecution's contention that there can be but one rightful verdict—the death penalty."

"If the extreme penalty is not exacted in this case, then there never was a criminal case in the history of Illinois that justified," he declared.

The assistant state's attorney spoke in a high pitched voice that penetrated to every corner of Judge Caverly's sombre courtroom.

Smiles Disappear

The smiles and smirks that have characterized the demeanor of "Dicky" and "Babe" most of the time during the five weeks of the trial faded completely away as Marshall swung into his opening plea for the noose. They listened attentively, they leaned over and whispered occasionally to their attorneys, but they didn't laugh as they have laughed during the most solemn moments of the trial.

The battle of the alienists ended shortly before 3 o'clock this afternoon when Dr. William O. Krohn, fourth of the state's alienists, left the witness stand in Judge Caverly's court with his testimony unshaken, that neither Leopold nor Loeb were mentally diseased when they killed Bobby Franks.

MANCHESTER WINS HEARTY SUPPORT

Candidate for Supervisor From This District Is Widely Experienced

Friends of O. B. Manchester, candidate for the office of county supervisor for the Fifth district, which includes Glendale, are working strenuously to insure his nomination in the primary election that is to be held Tuesday, August 26, and various influential organizations throughout the district are lining up solidly in his support.

Mr. Manchester's experience for the past twenty-one years in the office of the county treasurer of Los Angeles county has given him an insight into the workings of every department that would be of inestimable benefit to him in his work. His appointment to the office of chief deputy, a position he resigned to enter the present campaign, was made solely on his record during the years he has been connected with the office.

Studies Need of County

His position in the county treasurer's office has afforded Mr. Manchester unrivalled opportunity to study the needs of the county, especially with regard to the handling of its finances, and to realize that the taxpayer is entitled to a better show for his expenditures than he is sometimes accorded. One part of his duties has been to

REPARATIONS SETTLEMENT CREDIT NEW CLAIM BY ADMINISTRATION LEADERS

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—Acceptance on all sides of the Dawes' plan for the settlement of the reparation problem will have its reflex in the political campaign here. The Republicans are openly claiming credit for the achievement, offering it as a concrete answer to the charges of their opponents that nothing has been done during the Republican administration toward co-operation with Europe, especially to stabilize the situation that has persisted in an unsettled state since the armistice.

The Democrats do not criticize the Dawes plan or find flaws with its provisions in any sense. They take an entirely different tack, namely, that what was just been done could have been done and would have been done under American leadership five years ago but for the restrictive policy of hands off dictated by the irreconcilable sentiment in Congress and the acquiescence of the chief executive.

Try To Share Credit

Although the Republicans feel that the end achieved is all that will be noted by the public at large, the Democrats are preparing to show that in the actual writing of the Dawes plan, Owen Young, chairman of the General Electric company, a Democrat, played the really important role. Apart from this there may be some disclosures which would seek to prove that the Coolidge administration declined to assist in the naming of the experts who now have made the Dawes plan possible and that but for the timely intervention of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, the whole scheme might have been wrecked on the rocks of irreconcilable opposition to any governmental connection with the reparation problem, direct or indirect.

Brings Up Old Issue

Secretary Hughes originally proposed that the experts be unofficial and disconnected from the government, and that the United States should not be understood either to sanction or to sponsor the proposals but now that they

PLAN SALES OF SEWER BONDS

City Will Market $640,000 At Once to Finance Start of System

The Glendale City Council met at 8 o'clock this morning with the Sewer Bond Advisory committee, in the ante-room of the council chambers, and decided to place on the market immediately $640,000 worth of the $1,600,000 sewer bonds that have been voted to construct Glendale's sewer system connecting with the Los Angeles outfall sewer.

A. R. Eastman, chairman of the committee, presided, representing the Glendale State bank, of which he is president; and there were present W. W. Lee, president of the First National bank in Glendale; D. H. Smith, vice-president and manager of the Brand Boulevard branch, Pacific-Southwest Trust & Savings bank; W. A. Goss, assistant secretary of the Security Trust & Savings bank; and Herman Nelson, vice-president and manager of the Glendale Avenue branch, Pacific-Southwest Trust & Savings bank.

Call for Bids

It was also decided to place $320,000 worth of the bonds on the market January 15, 1925, and to place the remaining $640,000 on the market July 1, 1925. The committee and the City Council deemed it advisable not to accept any offer from a private syndicate but to advertise for bids. The council instructed the city attorney to prepare the necessary proceedings for the calling for bids.

Following this meeting, the City Council met with the Park board, Chairman L. H. Wilson presiding, and decided that hereafter all trees removed from parkways and streets being improved or widened shall be given to the Board of

SUIT WILL TEST THEATRE RULING

Revocation of Murphy Permit Will Be Heard Before Jury, August 25

A friendly suit was instituted this morning in the Burbank township justice court to test the power of the board of supervisors in revoking the permit issued Murphy's Comedians, now playing at Stocker and Central avenues, Casa Verdugo, just outside of the Glendale city limits.

R. C. Addison, county license inspector, signed the complaint charging J. A. Menard with operating a theatre without a license and Mr. Menard appeared forthwith before Justice of the Peace Harry W. Chase to plead not guilty. He asked for a jury trial, which was tentatively set for Monday, August 25, at 3 p. m., in the courtroom of Judge F. H. Lowe at the city hall. Judge Chase will request Justice of the Peace Kenneth C. Newell of Pasadena to preside, inasmuch as he feels disqualified on account of having expressed opinions on the subject.

Attorneys' Stand

Mr. Menard was released on his own recognizance and his attorneys, J. M. Blankenship and John Everson, stated that, inasmuch as the original license granted him permission to continue the performances of spoken drama at his popular tent theatre until October 1, they believe the jury will realize that the supervisors were guided by ulterior motives in attempting to revoke the permit. Henry W. Wright, supervisor of the Fifth district, in which Glendale and Casa Verdugo are located, voted with the others to oust the show, which has been providing popular entertainment to thousands of local residents.

Rumors to the contrary notwithstanding, the Murphy's Comedians are still "packing them in," and this week's play is "The Love Test," which may be seen nightly by those who prefer the spoken drama presented by the Pacific coast's most competent stock company.

ASSESSED VALUATIONS INCREASE 56.4 PERCENT IN LAST YEAR, FIGURES OF COMPTROLLER REVEAL

Community Growth Practically Absorbs Added Levies for Sewer Bonds and Parks; General Budget Fund Reduced 14 Cents

By H. THOMPSON RICH

Of The Evening News Staff.

The Glendale tax rate for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1924, is set at $1.11 in the boundaries of the city as originally incorporated, by the terms of an ordinance introduced before the City Council this morning, and ranges from $1.09 to $1.12 in the seven districts annexed since 1910. Last year the rate was $1.10 in the original district, and in the seven annexed districts the rate ranged from $1.03 to $1.11, according to official figures in the office of H. C. Saulsberry, city comptroller.

This year's tax rate is based on an assessed valuation of $47,061,355, as set forth in the ordinance introduced this morning, and which represents an increase of 56.4 per cent over last year's assessed valuation of $30,092,460. According to Mr. Saulsberry, this is one of the most phenomenal increases in assessed valuation ever recorded by a municipality, and graphically indicates the truth of the slogan, "the fastest growing city in America." In dollars and cents, this increase totals $16,968,895.

Of this $1.11 tax rate, only 80 cents is set aside for the general budget fund, whereas last year the general budget fund was 94 cents. It is only because of the phenomenal increase in assessed valuation that the rate has been cut in this instance, Mr. Saulsberry points out, stating that many cities have been compelled to increase their charter allowance of $1 per $100 of assessed valuation, whereas Glendale has been able to fix a rate even less than the charter allowance. Last year Los Angeles set aside for the general budget fund $1.25, he states.

Low Rate Remarkable in View Of New Sewer and Park Levies

The fact that Glendale's tax rate has been kept as low as $1.11 is all the more remarkable when it is realized that of this rate, two important items were not included in last year's rate, Mr. Saulsberry points out, namely: 18 cents levy for interest and redemption of the $1,600,000 sewer bonds, and 3 cents for the park and recreation fund.

The following table, which is an integral part of the ordinance introduced before the City Council at this morning's session, shows at a glance how the rate in the eight districts is ascertained:

	A	B	C	D	E	F	G	H
For the General Budget Fund	$ .80	$ .80	$ .80	$ .80	$ .80	$ .80	$ .80	$ .80
For the Park and Recreational Fund	.03	.03	.03	.03	.03	.03	.03	.03
For the interest and sinking fund for fire apparatus bonds authorized at an election held Oct. 29, 1912	.0025	.0025
For the interest and sinking fund for City Hall and Library site bonds authorized at an election held March 17, 1911	.0075	.0075
For the interest and sinking fund for fire protection bond issued by the City of Tropico and authorized at an election held March 20, 1913				.02
For Street improvement bonds election 1922 interest and sinking fund	.01	.01	.01	.01	.01	.01
For interest and sinking fund for sanitary sewer bonds authorized at an election held Jan. 8, 1924	.18	.18	.18	.18	.18	.18	.18	.18
Total tax rate	$1.11	$1.11	$1.10	$1.12	$1.10	$1.10	$1.09	$1.09

As a comparison, the following total from the ordinance of a year ago is offered:

	A	B	C	D	E	F	G
Total tax rate	$1.10	$1.10	$1.09	$1.11	$1.08	$1.07	$1.03

In addition to the foregoing taxes, there are also levied on all taxable properties within the Glendale city limits certain additional taxes, affecting only particular districts. The assessed valuation of $47,061,355, on which the tax rate is based, is established by the county assessor of Los Angeles county and equalized by the Board of Supervisors of that county.

KLAN IS FACTOR IN SENATE RACE

Oklahoma Ex-Governor May Ride Into Office In Coming Election

By J. W. McCAMMON
Special correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924

OKLAHOMA CITY, Ok., Aug. 19.—The fiery cross of the Ku Klux Klan, on which former Governor John C. Walton of Oklahoma claimed he was being crucified during his recent impeachment and removal from office, may prove the beacon that will light his path to a seat in the United States Senate.

With three candidates in the field, Walton is the only one who is not marked as pro-Klan. The coming election promises to hinge on the Klan issue, and, as his two rivals have Klan support, and, consequently will divide the Ku Klux vote, Walton has a good chance of election.

The candidates are former Governor Walton, the regular Democratic nominee; W. B. Pine, millionaire oil operator, who has the Republican designation, and Campbell Russell, agricultural orator and organizer, who, although a Democrat, is running on an independent ticket.

Pro-Klan Attitude

Russell undoubtedly would poll a heavy Democratic vote, but for one thing—he openly admits membership in the Klan. Even Pine probably would draw many Democratic votes as against Walton, but for the fact that he, also, is generally credited with being strongly pro-Klan.

Whether it be a fact, as many of his enemies allege, that Walton had "double-crossed" his friends, the political situation is being summed up by many observers thus: "Fiery cross or double cross."

As between the two, the majority of the anti-Klannists are ready to support the "double cross." They hold that one man with a reputation not wholly good is at least better than a powerful organization whose renutation is not wholly good, especially in Oklahoma.

Paper's Viewpoint

Oklahoma is taking its election like a dose of castor oil. The Daily Oklahoman, pioneer Democratic paper, for instance, sums the situation up thus:

"There is no profit in discussing either the philosophy or the record of the Klan. It is a waste of time to discuss the charges preferred against the hooded order in days gone by. Certainly many of the charges made against it are erroneous. But the essential thing is that the political activities of the Klan have produced a condition in Oklahoma that is most deplorable. . . . The Daily Oklahoman regards the nomination of Walton as a disgrace to Oklahoma Democracy. But Walton is not the only shame that Oklahoma endures. He is not the only menace that thrusts an ugly shadow across the plains of the state."

Party Lines Weaken

At a recent meeting of the Democratic state central committee there was much discussion of the Klan issue, and also of Walton's candidacy. Several members of the Klan who are committeemen openly expressed hostility to Walton's candidacy despite the fact that he is the regularly accredited nominee. But, in the end, the committee decided to "stand by the ticket" which includes Walton.

Under the circumstances, it requires no great stretch of the imagination to vision the total submergence of party lines in November and the casting of the entire vote, so far as the Senate election is concerned, at least, on the issue of "fiery cross or double cross."

Dairies Consolidate, Plant to Be Enlarged

BURBANK, Aug. 19.—A consolidation affecting two of the oldest and most substantial concerns in the valley has been effected between the Danish dairy and the Hansen Heights dairy whereby the latter is absorbed by the former. Fred H. Lucas, formerly proprietor of the Hansen Heights dairy, announced the deal.

New equipment costing $30,000 is to be installed by the Danish dairy, whch is an old established institution with routes throughout the San Fernando valley and Los Angeles. Headquarters will be maintained at Burbank where a new building will be erected to house the new equipment. Equipment will include the latest sanitary processes for handling milk. The Hansen Heights dairy was the pioneer concern operating in its section.

La Crescenta Picks Entry In Queen Race

LA CRESCENTA, Aug. 19.—Miss Charlotte Foy has been nominated by friends to represent La Crescenta in the popularity contest for honors as "Queen of the Verdugos." The La Crescenta valley, which includes Montrose and Verdugo City, intends to support the candidate for a winning campaign.

The winner will receive a diamond ring as a testimonial to her popularity. John Steven McGroarty will make the presentation and crown the lucky young lady "Queen of the Verdugos" at a ball one night during the fourth annual Moon Festival of the Tujungans, which opens August 31 for four days.

One of Nature's little known wonders is a 100-foot column of granite in Colorado that sways with the wind.

TUJUNGA NOTES

TUJUNGA, Aug. 19.—Work of building the new units to the Tujunga school has begun and is progressing fast. Concrete forms are going up for the walls and a concrete sub-floor in a basement class room has already been laid.

Miss Gilmore, librarian, announces that the Tujunga branch of the county library will be open Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday in future. New books are expected to be added to the present supply.

Major Green of the map department of the National Auto club was in Tujunga getting data for a map of the Verdugo Hills, and for the route to be followed by the realtors' caravan when it passes through the hills to Pasadena, to attend the coming convention there.

The Tujunga drug store is giving ten votes for the Moon Festival queen contest with every 50 cent purchase. Other stores are expected to adopt similar plans.

A birthday party will be given Wednesday afternoon, August 20, for Mrs. L. May Dean by the Tujunga Woman's club. Mrs. Dean is the oldest member of the club and has been active in club affairs for several years.

Members of the J. O. C. class of the Tujunga Community church will hold a business meeting today at Monte Vista park, Sunland, which will conclude with a basket supper.

EXPLAINS RULES OF TAX STATUTE

Collector Goodcell Outlines Policy of Bureau In Tax Enquiries

So many requests are being received daily by Collector of Internal Revenue Rex B. Goodcell, for rulings and advice upon abstract cases or prospective transactions involving questions of income tax and profits liability, and the insistence on prompt action is so great that it has been decided to outline definitely the bureau's policy which will govern the consideration of these requests.

The Revenue Acts of 1921 and 1924 depart widely at many points from prior law of practice, and have given rise to new questions of such importance, complexity, and number that the resources of the bureau are no more than adequate to advise taxpayers promptly of their present liabilities arising out of past transactions. It is impossible, the collector said, to answer every question which the invention or ingenuity of the inquirer may devise without neglecting the fundamental duty of determining tax liability upon the basis of actual happenings. Under these circumstances, the administrative necessity is obvious of giving precedence over abstract or prospective cases to actual cases in which the taxpayer desires to know what are his immediate liabilities under the law, it was stated.

Bureau's Policy

It will be the policy of the bureau not to answer any inquiry except under the following circumstances, Collector Goodcell said:

The transaction must be completed and not merely proposed or planned.

The complete facts relating to the transaction, together with abstracts from contracts, or other documents, necessary to present the complete facts, must be given.

The names of all the real parties interested (not "dummies" used in the transaction), must be stated, regardless of who presents the question, whether attorney, accountant, tax service, or other representative.

Must Sign Request

A request for a ruling must be signed by the taxpayer, or in case he is represented by an attorney or agent, the request must be accompanied by properly executed power of attorney. Banks, however, will not be required to furnish powers of attorney with respect to inquiries affecting their depositors.

A copy of a ruling addressed to a taxpayer will not be furnished to his attorney or agent unless the bureau is specifically authorized to do so by the taxpayer.

From San Diego came Mr. and Mrs. Sam Frazee, their daughter and son, Margaret and Bobert, former residents of Glendale. E. L. Schuyler of 330 West Ivy street, Glendale, who motored south with his family, served as "officer of the day," making all arrangements for the outing.

A delicious picnic lunch was enjoyed at noon, and the afternoon was spent in swimming and visiting.

FUND AVAILABLE TO FIGHT FIRES

Supervisors Set Aside $5000 To Protect Territory Around Glendale

The Board of County Supervisors yesterday appropriated an emergency sum of $5000 to be used in fire prevention and protection in Glendale and the foothill region adjacent to the city, the money to become available immediately, according to advices reaching P. J. Hayselden, chief of the Glendale unit of the Angeles Forest Protective association.

The money will be used to furnish fire patrols throughout the foothills lying near Glendale, to erect lookout stations on the mountain tops, and to install telephone communication between the lookouts and the city so that warning of any outbreaks may be carried to the members of the fire fighting crews at once.

Survey Planned

One of the lookout stations, Chief Hayselden says, will be established on the top of Mount Verdugo, and others will be located at strategic points as soon as the survey that will be carried out by Mr. Hayselden and County Forester Stuart J. Flintham, working with other executives of the Glendale unit of the association, can be completed.

"It should be realized," declared Mr. Hayselden this morning, "that a large part of the territory that is menaced by fire outbreaks on account of dry brush and the accumulation of leaves and other debris lies within the city limits of Glendale, so that the city itself is in constant peril from this source. Other sections of the territory lying outside the city limits are owned by private individuals, and if the supervisors had not made the appropriations these individuals would have been at a big expense to protect their property from fire.

Evangelist Conducts Nazarene Services

Three preaching services were held at the First Church of the Nazarene Sunday, all of them being largely attended. Rev. O. B. Ong, the evangelist who is conducting a series of revival services, delivered all three sermons. Several conversions were made at each service.

The Sunday school and the Young People's society meetings were also well attended.

The evangelistic campaign will continue all this week, with services each night at 7:30 o'clock, to which everyone is welcome.

Proceeds of Affair Will Go To Defray Expenses of Band to Conclave

The fund being raised to defray the expenses of sending the Elks' band to the state convention at Santa Catalina Island, September 17 to 20, was enriched last night by a High Jinks, held at the club house under the direction of a committee headed by Ray Galvin.

The main lodge room was packed, every available inch of floor space being occupied, while many were forced to stand in the doorways, on top of desks and perched on chairs. Many were turned away on account of lack of room.

The High Jinks opened with a concert furnished by Al Cawood's Egyptian Village orchestra. The musicians appeared at the lodge room, coming direct from the Egyptian Village cafe, and after their recital, hurried back to entertain dinner guests.

Apffel Officiates

James Apffel officiated as announcer for the entertainment. Harry McCartney refereed all bouts staged in the main lodge room, while John Wimmer acted as timekeeper.

The opening battle between two newsboys from Los Angeles, Young Rocky Kansas and Young Benny Leonard, provided plenty of thrills for the spectators, Young Rocky Kansas getting the decision after four rounds of slugging. Ralph Myers had an easy time with Young Leddy, and copped the decision, Leddy "shelling" constantly.

Bud Forester and Kid Essex, a couple of 140-pounders, provided the real thrill of the program when they mixed constantly during the four rounds of their bout. After considerable slugging by each, Referee McCartney declared Forester the winner. Roy Edwards and Jack Spahr, 140 pounds, tried hard for a knockout, but both failed to connect. Spahr won the decision. A battle royal with five newsboys, furnished a lot of amusement.

Following the bouts, the members of the lodge and their friends adjourned to the dining room where a watermelon feast rounded out the affair.

'Emotional Heights' Along Kenneth Road

"Spooners" are anathema to Captain D. Ripley Jackson, Glendale's postmaster, and he is their nemesis. Observing that cars containing young couples have been wont to seek the high altitudes along Kenneth road, there to cool the ardor of their emotions in the balmy evening breezes, he notified the police department, which investigated last night and found the phenomena the captain had reported. Henceforth local spooners will seek new emotional heights, perhaps.

EARNS TITLE OF MARRYIN' PARSON

Rev. W. Edmonds Performs Three Marriages as Vacation Starts

Rev. W. E. Edmonds, pastor of the Glendale Presbyterian church, held undisputed right yesterday to honors of Glendale's "marryin' parson," for, on the first day of his annual vacation, he officiated at three marriages.

At 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon he read the bridal service at the marriage of Miss Daisy M. Beale of Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, Canada, and Ray M. Pardon, in the Little Church of the Flowers in Forest Lawn Memorial park.

The next ceremony was at 8 o'clock, at the Edmonds home at 121 South Cedar street, where Miss Mary A. Lane of San Francisco and Floyd E. Davis of Los Angeles were married.

Rival Appears

Completing the bridal trio was the ceremony at 9 o'clock at the Edmonds home uniting Miss Marie Hammer and Charles Alva Broughton, both of Glendale.

Mr. Edmonds was forced to give up his honors today to Dr. H. C. Funk, pastor of the First Lutheran church, who is reported to have accomplished the impossible by being in two places at the same time, performing two marriages at 12 o'clock noon today, that of Miss Helen A. Kuver of Glendale and Frederick R. Cooper of Colorado, in the Little Church of the Flowers, and that of Miss Louise Lochner and Frederick D. Grand of Anaheim in Pasadena.

Power Curtailment May End November 1

Long and detailed cross examination of Power Supervisor H. G. Butler took place in one of the hearings before the State Railroad Commission in the matter of the Southern California Edison company's application for rate increase, and served to bring out a survey of the general situation which led to the appointment of Mr. Butler to direct the power-saving campaign.

According to Butler's testimony curtailment will end, if all goes according to plan, November 1. That assumption however, is based on expectancy that the new Long Beach station of the Edison company will be in operation before that date and that the San Joaquin generating plants will be able to make delivery to the Edison distributing system. If not, curtailment will be continued for at least another month.

Edison has more than 1000 patents.

PLANNERS FAVOR STREET OPENING

Sierra Avenue District Gets Consideration of Problems By Commission

The City Planning commission at its meeting last night in the City Hall concurred in the city engineer's recommendation that Walnut drive and other streets in the Sierra avenue district be opened up. The meeting was presided over by T. W. Watson, chairman, and all the members were present.

Benjamin F. Dupuy, city engineer, had recommended that Walnut drive be opened clear through to Glenwood road, making this a parallel street to the proposed Fourth street extension, from Glenoaks boulevard to the Burbank city limits, known as the Pasadena-Glendale-Burbank highway.

To Standardize Grade

The matter of establishing uniform grades along Fourth street was discussed at last night's meeting, it being agreed that the roadway on both sides of the Pacific Electric tracks should be on the same level. At present there is a difference in grade of from one to three feet along this street.

The commission decided to meet at the City Hall 9 o'clock next Monday morning and go over Fourth street with the city engineer, from Pacific avenue to the west city limits, with a view to gathering first hand information on the subject, so that a recommendation can be made to the City Council.

CHAIRS FOLD UP

To a recently patented, extension table are attached two chairs that fold and slide under it, out of sight when not used.

Ordinance Forbids Hunting, Smoking In Brush Land Areas

Hunters and smokers, attention.

At the behest of Henry W. Wright, the board of supervisors yesterday passed an emergency ordinance, due to dry weather, that no hunting or smoking will be permitted in the brush lands of the county, which includes all unincorporated area. However, one may smoke or hunt on his own property, it is stated.

Chairman R. F. McClellan said that "while we know this will impose a hardship on people, it is a sacrifice we feel we can justly ask be made because of the extreme fire hazard and enormous values involved."

Vacant Office Scene Of Spontaneous Blaze

Fire, originating in a vacant office, threatened the business block at 106A East Broadway, just before 7 o'clock last night. In response to an alarm turned in by a police officer, Chief A. H. Lankford of the Glendale fire department and a crew from Station No. 1 arrived on the scene and extinguished the blaze with chemicals.

Spontaneous combustion is the explanation assigned by Chief Lankford as the cause of the fire, a pile of old rags and paint cans in the corner evidently having burst into flames of their own accord. The damage was slight.

H. Thompson Rich of Evening News Staff Back From Trip Into Mexico

Lower California—a land of romance, mystery and opportunity—is the word brought back by H. Thompson Rich of The Glendale Evening News staff, who returned to his desk yesterday after a week's vacation at Ensenada, eighty-eight miles south of the border.

With Mr. Rich was his wife and his wife's sister. They made the trip in their car, over good, bad and indifferent roads, no tire trouble or other motor difficulties of any kind, either going or returning.

Bay Is Beautiful

Ensenada is a seacoast town of some 2500 population, of which perhaps 100 are Americans, English and Germans. The rest are Mexicans. It is a peaceful town, quiet, well ordered and clean, according to Mr. Rich, who declares that the bay is one of the most beautiful in the world, curving for fifteen miles in a graceful arc.

"Pobre Baja California," as the peninsula has been known for a hundred years, and which translated means "poor Lower California," may soon come to be known as lucky Lower California, Mr. Rich predicts, as gold has recently been struck in immense quantities and the government is disposed to encourage the entrance of American capital.

The Letter That Fired Ambition

"Dear Old Jim," she wrote. "No, I'm not going to marry—not yet. It isn't that I don't love you, Jim. But I am wondering how soon you would tire of seeing me across the breakfast table if my time was devoted to pots and pans. It doesn't take long for time to etch his crows' feet around a blonde's mouth and eyes, especially when worries come. And worries there would be, Jim, financial ones, that try the love and souls of men and women who marry with nothing saved up. Oh, if you would prove your ability to deny yourself! Save something for us to start on, just to prove that you have within you the seed of success."

I read the letter on through to the end. Was she right? Of course! She was always right. It hurt to admit it. But in her home she had everything that a doting father could give. With me—why, I had nothing—was spending all I made.

Necessity is the most effective spur ambition ever had. I had heard that the first thousand dollars is the hardest. I determined to save. I figured my expenses—allowed myself so much for clothes, board, amusement, advancement. But a good part of each month's pay I saved. At first it was difficult. Soon it fascinated me. I would prove my self-denial.

Thus time went on until one day my bank book showed $1000 to my credit—my capital. And that very night I went to see her. Without words I pressed into her hands my bank book. She held it up—opened it. Then delight transfigured her face. The rest of it is none of your business. There's a cozy little apartment I've just rented and she's rushing to the stationers to get her newly engraved visiting cards.

We never realize the need of money until we lack it. Most financial worries come after marriage rather than before. But this much is certain. Freedom from debt makes life happier. Possessing money brings opportunities which never present themselves to those who say: "There's nothing to saving."

GIVE ALL CANDIDATES A CHANCE IN NOVEMBER

There is a condition existing in the manner of nominating and electing candidates under non-partisan rules that is not for the best interests of the people. When a candidate for any office receives a majority of the votes cast at the primaries his opponents are eliminated and he is practically elected. Of course other names can be written on the election ballot, but it is seldom that the people would organize to such an extent as to elect a man by writing his name on the ballot. This, then, makes August 26 the final election for some.

Now, there are many voters who do not consider the primary election important. That is the wrong attitude, but many people take it and so have neglected to register, excusing themselves by saying that November 4 is the important day and they will do their duty then. It thus behooves a candidate who is under the non-partisan class and not seeking nomination by any party to do his work and receive the majority of the votes at the primaries for the particular office which he seeks, eliminate his oppenents from the race and save the time and expense of two months of campaigning. Then the people who have not voted at the primaries, thinking they can make their choice at the election find they have no alternative but to vote for this man if they vote at all.

Many Glendale citizens are advocating the course of not giving any one man too big a vote at the primaries and so decide the election at that time. Wait for further developments and then elect him in November if that seems best. If not, there is another candidate to fall back upon.

For instance, there are three candidates for Supervisor in the Fifth Supervisorial district of Los Angeles county, Henry W. Wright, the incumbent, O. B. Manchester and Charles C. Fife. Mr. Wright has very recently been making promises to Glendale of county funds to be used for flood control, roads and bridges in this section of the fifth district. Some of these projects have gone so far as to receive the O. K. of the Board and contracts are being let. Others are mere verbal promises and there will not be time before August 26 to have them acted upon by the Board.

Were Mr. Wright placed in a position where he would have an opponent on November 4 he would, in all likelihood, have as much interest in Glendale in the interval between the primaries and the election as he has had the past sixty days. Should his election be assured at the primaries the past gives us no reason to assume that his newly-awakened interest in this section of the district would continue.

For the good of the community why would it not be a good plan not to give Mr. Wright such a big vote at the primaries as to throw others out of the race at the November election? In this way Glendale would have sixty more days of Supervisorial service. Then if we wish we can still elect Mr. Wright in November.

MAKE AIRPORT SAFE

Now that flying is becoming so popular as a means of recreation as well as commercially, it is not so bad for a city to have an airport. There is no better means of advertising. Glendale is seeking publicity, asking for an advertising fund, and paying out money to sell Glendale to the balance of the world.

Glendale's airport has served to advertise us to a considerable degree the past year, although some of the publicity of late has not been so favorable as it might have been. It would be a calamity, now that this landing field has been established and is known to fliers, if it should be abandoned, or avoided by aviators and airplane owners on account of not being safe.

If there is any reason why conditions at this airport make it not entirely safe for landing or taking off, it ought to be in the power of individuals, city or county officials, to remedy this fault. Even though these obstacles were installed before the flying field was established, if the location is desirable for an airport, and there is no question but it is, arrangements should be made to have it one of the safest to be found anywhere.

The time is coming very soon when every city, village and hamlet will of necessity provide a landing place for aircraft. Glendale is forward-looking in other things, and should not be found wanting in this respect. Progressive citizens own their own aircraft and Glendale should seize this means of advertising herself as being the home of the best and safest airport in the country.

OVERWORK

What a great world this would be if everyone lived up to the limit of his possibilities. A great many of us could do twice the work we do with no injury to body or brain. Dr. Edward L. Thorndyke of Columbia university, one of the greatest psychologists of the country, said: "Many people come to me and tell me they fear they are overworking their brains. This is impossible. Usually they are over-worrying their brains. No one need fear overworking his brain or of ever working too hard. Nine chances out of ten you never use up the brain's capacity for work. If you have seven or eight hours' sleep you do not need to be afraid of undermining your health. Fortified with sleep, you can work the limit. . . . More people tire their brains by not thinking than by actual thinking.

Thomas Edison's capacity for work has often been remarked upon. He has used his brain, perhaps, more than any other man of our time, and apparently he has not injured it. The average man would say he has not Edison's capacity for work. He is limited by his attitude and not by his brain power, for he has never even tried to measure that.

It is said that we use only a fraction of our lung power when we breathe, and most of us are content to use our bodies as little as possible. If each individual realized his capabilities and his capacity for work, both mental and physical, the sum total of human accomplishment would be greatly improved.

The way to a man's heart may be through his stomach, but the way to his kidney is through his bootlegger.

Purely from a standpoint of economy, it costs less to prevent a disease than it does to die with it.

Nothing understood is mysterious and all things are understandable.

DIOGENES CONTINUES HIS SEARCH FOR AN HONEST MAN

Tired

By DR. FRANK CRANE

No, I don't want to go to any kind of entertainment. I am too tired.

I don't want to go to any place for supper, nor to see anyone dance nor indulge in any game. I am tired.

The world is too much for me and I would like, most of all, to go to sleep. My bones ache, my back aches and my head is weary.

Youth is too much for me. The antics of children weary me and the forth-putting of those who are still in their youth gives me a feeling only of uneasiness and no desire to join them.

I am tired, plain tired, and I ask no more of the world than that it shall go away and let me alone.

I suppose that there is such a thing as an instinct of rest as well as the instinct for activity, a feeling for a welcome of death, or its likeness—sleep, as well as a feeling for the exercise of one's faculties.

I suppose I am growing old. The things do not interest me that interest most people. I want to indulge in no sports and take place in no activity.

I do not like the city and its noises, its continual hubbub gets on my nerves. I want the country and its quiet, with the gentle fall of rain and the hum of insects.

The chatter of friends no longer interests me. I wish they would keep still and go away. The most considerate thing that anybody could do would be to leave me alone.

There were times, when the blood was high, in which I called for the excitement which comes from any kind of society, any kind of forth-putting. But those times have passed and I look forward only to sleep.

I can conceive of no better heaven than one of eternal rest.

Those who conceive of heaven as a place of endless activity are those who understand the human frame as a bundle of potencies only waiting to be developed.

I am not a bundle of potencies. The vessel has been emptied and there is nothing more attractive than sleep.

My body is tired and my soul also. I am tired of seeing things and hearing things. I have all the impressions that can be accumulated. There is nothing new to me. I am entirely sophisticated.

Perhaps the new life may come with an infusion of a new spirit, but until it does the old spirit must have its way.

Horoscope

Although Neptune and the Sun are both in benefic aspect today, according to astrology, Uranus and Saturn are both strongly adverse.

It is a day in which to plan activities and to promote them, but it will be wise to defer actual initiative.

Neptune is in a place that should enable even the dullest person to obtain clear vision of practical affairs.

Under this rule both men and women may be inclined to introspection, which will be beneficial, since it should enable them to recognize their own faults.

This is an auspicious sway under which to start out on long journeys. Many persons will make ocean voyages in seasons not usually popular for tourists.

Farmers may meet with severe disappointment, for Saturn frowns on them and may thwart efforts along political lines.

Uranus is in a place supposed to encourage wrong-thinking and many men may be misled in well meant efforts to right public wrongs.

This should be a favorable day for all who seek employment and a revival of business in certain quarters is indicated by the stars.

Farm surgery should be subject to the best influences up to the twenty-fourth of this month, but it will not help the growth of discontent, which will be apparent as labor day approaches.

A London astrologer prophesies for the autumn quarter in Washington, D. C., grave danger of disputes with other powers.

Loss for the United States through fraud, forgery and illicit dealings also is prognosticated.

Persons whose birthdate it is should have a prosperous year, but they may be deceived in persons whom they trust in business. Speculation will be surely unfortunate, and also may have a year of many unusual experiences. Those who are employed are likely to be promoted.

Children born on this day may have vicissitudes in life for these subjects of Leo with Virgo qualities usually have many talents and much energy. Girls should be exceedingly careful in selecting a husband.

Today's Poem

WHEN SHE COMES HOME

When she comes home again! A thousand ways
I fashion, to myself, the tenderness
Of my glad welcome!. I shall tremble—yes;
And touch her, as when first in the old days
I touched her girlish hand, nor dared upraise
Mine eyes, such was my faint heart's sweet distress,
Then silence; and the perfume of her dress;
The room will sway a little, and a haze
Clog eyesight—soul-sight, even for a space;
And tears—yes; and the ache here in the throat,
To know that I so ill deserve the place
Her arms make for me; and the sobbing note
I stay with kisses, ere the tearful face
Again is hidden in the old embrace.

DRIVING THEM OUT

A street preacher in a Scottish town called a passing policeman, and complained of being annoyed by a certain portion of his audience. He asked to have the objectionable persons removed.

"Well, ye see," said the officer thoughtfully, "it would be deefficult for me tae spot them; but I'll tell ye what I'd dae if I were you."

"What?" asked the preacher eagerly.

"Just gang roun' wi' th' hat!"

EASY TO PICK

A commercial traveler visiting a warehouse made a bet with the manager that he could pick out all the married men among the employes.

Accordingly he stationed himself at the door as they returned from dinner and mentioned all those he believed to be married. In almost every case he was right.

"How do you do it?" asked the manager.

"Oh, it's quite simple," said the traveler. "The married men wipe their feet on the mat; the single ones don't."

Who's Who

A well-known lawyer, Thomas J. Spellacy, has been chosen to conduct the eastern campaign of the Democratic party in the coming presidential election.

He was born in Hartford, Conn., March 6, 1880, and still resides in that city. He attended Holy Cross college, 1898-9, and received his LL. B. from Georgetown university in 1901 and the degree of doctor of laws in 1920.

He began his political career in 1907, when he became a member of the Connecticut Senate. In 1912 he was a delegate to the Democratic national convention, and in 1920 was chairman of the committee on rules. From 1915-19 he served as United States district attorney. After the World war he became legal adviser in Europe to Franklin D. Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy, in the settlement of naval affairs in Europe growing out of the war.

Spellacy was also assistant attorney general of the United States from 1919-1921.

The Democratic nomination for governor of Connecticut was tendered him in 1918, but he was defeated in the election.

The Ravings Of a Grouch

If I were making the country's laws I would provide severe punishment for the man who has no regard for the rights of others, the one who takes all the privileges that are coming to him, but makes himself obnoxious to his neighbors.

This man always wants the advantages of community life. He always lives in close proximity to others, but he fails to take into consideration the fact that others have rights as well as he. He may not overstep his legal prerogatives, but he makes himself a nuisance just the same.

He was bad enough when he kept the entire neighborhood awake until the wee small hours of the morning with jazz tunes on his phonograph. But, now that he has a radio with a loud-speaker, he is even worse. When there is anything on the air from Kalamazoo to Timbuctoo he gets it, and so do all the neighbors within the radius of a block, when often they would prefer peace and quiet. Even the Sunday morning stillness is punctured by the sonorous tones of the minister. If the neighbors wanted to hear a sermon on Sunday morning, they would go to church or have a radio of their own. Even if they wanted to hear it on his radio, only a few of the nearest could catch the words anyway.

The radio is a great invention. I do not mean to cast any reflections upon it or upon those who make use of it. It has proved a joy and a satisfaction to many who could not otherwise hear concerts, lectures and sermons, but it can be made a nuisance, too, and some discretion should be used in its operation.

This same fellow, just as like as not builds a chicken coop or rabbit pen near his neighbor's window, or places a garage so it will shut off the light from the people next door. He takes advantage of restrictions which forbid more than one house on a small lot by building several coop-like apartments and connecting them under one roof, thereby decreasing the value of all the property adjacent to him.

He keeps crowing roosters and cackling hens on a small city lot, where they are obnoxious to the entire neighborhood. He allows his cat and his dog and his children to roam over the neighboring premises, getting into any mischief they will. But his own property and his own rights must be held sacred.

Long Beach Cafe Man Alleges 'Frame Up'

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 19.—Charges he had been the victim of a "frame up" were placed today by H. J. Nicholson, wealthy cafe owner of Long Beach, arrested on sensational charges of dissolute conduct with Florette Duvall, artist's model. Nicholson is at liberty under heavy bail pending his preliminary hearing September 10 on two counts, one alleging the commission of a statutory offense and the other, attempted bribery of deputy sheriffs.

Detectives in the meantime took up the trail of a girl, said to have participated in a similar affair with Nicholson.

Reparation Settlement Claimed G. O. P. Credit

have turned out well, the American government is openly claiming credit for their performance, and the political orators are not hesitating to give the impression that the administration sent General Dawes abroad and that the whole thing was part of the administration's official foreign policy.

Those who championed the cause of international co-operation from the beginning and who insisted that American advice and assistance were essential, the success of the Dawes' plan is vindication. The advocates of the league are again coming forth to say that the world would have been much nearer prosperity if America had not remained aloof, and if membership had been accepted on the reparations body. Not until the experts were sent abroad a few months ago did America send a full fledged delegation to tackle the reparations problem.

Hughes Shows Logic

Mr. Hughes takes quite the opposite view, namely, that the very success which has been achieved might not have been achieved had the government followed a policy of active co-operation. He believes that the division of opinion which exists in both political parties with respect to the measure of American participation in European affairs would have produced protracted debate and no settlement. Because it was an unofficial, non-governmental body, the plan has been evolved, in his opinion. But once evloved, he sees, of course, no reason why the American government should not lend its moral support and even active influence to its operation. It was no mere coincidence that Mr. Hughes was abroad when the big international conference was holding its sessions. His presence at a critical moment was pointed to by friends of the administration as evidence of its interest in the solution that has just been reached.

Hope for Prosperity

For many years the argument has been made that America's part should be to advise an economic settlement and to remain apart from political problems. The two have been interwoven inseparably, but the United States avoided the political aspects by having an unofficial body participate in the discussions. It is the economic result which had to be obtained through political channels, and now that a settlement has been reached, the administration is enthusiastic over the prospects of a favorable reaction to American business and export trade. The Republican hope is that the era of prosperity will begin soon enough to make the voter indifferent to change and contented with the administration in power, forgetting past omissions in the light of the new developments.

NOTED MEN MEET WITH COOLIDGE

Edison, Ford and Firestone Call on President at Vermont Farmhouse

PLYMOUTH, Vt., Aug. 19.—Vacation paths were to cross today in this little New England hamlet and bring together for a few hours four of the nation's most prominent men.

President Coolidge, seeking rest here in the home of his father, arranged to entertain three others—Thomas A. Edison, the electrical wizard; Henry Ford, motor manufacturer, and Harvey Firestone, rubber manufacturer.

Edison, Ford and Firestone are embarking upon their annual camping trip, and their route has brought them to Plymouth. After a stop of a few hours they intended to continue to the Canadian woods. A brief meeting and possibly luncheon was expected.

Met with Harding

This is the third year the trail of the three campers has crossed that of a president. Twice the trio met with President Harding. None of the three had much to say for publication. They emphasized they were on a vacation and meant to stay on a vacation.

Vermont is "keeping cool with Coolidge." Chilly weather that demands coats and heavy clothing made indoors more attractive than is usual on a vacation.

The presidential party remained close to the old-fashioned parlor, with its stove and stuffed furniture. Secret service agents shivered outside. The little knots of curious tourists that gathered from time to time thinned out considerably after waiting in the chill out of doors.

Fulfills Wishes

A touch of sentiment was injected into the day's activities. It was when Mrs. Coolidge appeared outside for a few moments and on the end of a fence mounted a child's cardboard windmill.

It was explained that the toy was made by Calvin Coolidge, jr., now lying buried just across the road. He made it during his vacation here last year. Shortly before he died he asked his mother to put it back into place should she return to Plymouth before he did.

ORDER RESTRAINS FERRY'S REMOVAL

Contractor Halts Action on City's Move to Abolish Camp and Corral

Temporary restraining orders were served this morning on Mayor Spencer Robinson, the members of the Glendale City Council, Judge Frank H. Lowe of the police court, Chief John D. Fraser of the police department and Dr. G. Kaemmerling, city health officer, rstraining them from enforcing the provisions of Ordiance 967 until August 28, when there will be a hearing before the Superior court, in Los Angeles, to determine whether a temporary injunction shall be issued, granting Peter L. Ferry the right to maintain a grading camp and mule corral at 614 East Acacia avenue.

The orders were served at the instance of Mr. Ferry, through Evans, Pearce & Campbell, Los Angeles attorneys. Mr. Ferry bases his contentions on the grounds that he has been on the premises in question since 1907, that he is not maintaing a nuisance, and that he must maintain this camp at that location in order to continue the improvement of Sycamore Canyon road, on which he is now at work; and he maintains that the ordinance in question is unreasonable, arbitrary and passed for the special purpose of ousting him from these premises.

A permit was granted Mr. Ferry on August 7, under Ordinance 967, which regulates the keeping of camps and live stock within the city limits. This permit was revoked on August 14, because of the fact that the ordinance, which was passed July 17, had not yet become effective.

Ray L. Morrow, city attorney, and Leslie R. Tarr, deputy city attorney, will represent the city officials in the Superior court.

POSTAL BUSINESS SHOWS BIG GAINS

Advertisers Hear Report on Growth of Local Office At Big Banquet

forty-four, he said, and on January 1, 1924, it was eighty-five. Ten more employes have been added since the first of the year, he said, and the force will be increased soon.

High Efficiency Here

Postmaster Jackson told of the efficiency of the local force, claiming that more efficiency was shown here than in any other office in the United States, inasmuch as when the office was opened, applications were received from postal employes throughout the United States, and he was able to pick those with the highest ratings.

Showing that the postoffice was a business factor in Glendale, Postmaster Jackson said that for the quarter ending March 31 the amount of $37,343.41 was spent in Glendale by the postoffice; for the quarter ending June 30 the amount reached $38,517, and for the present quarter will exceed $40,000.

Gives Suggestions

He gave a number of suggestions for improving the service by means of co-operation. He asked that firms with large local mailing lists arrange this mail by carriers and not alphabetically, and using permits thus enabling the postoffice to give practically first-class service on this type of mail matter.

Tells of Big Business

More than 137,000 physicians throughout the United States are being reached three times a month by the mail advertising of the Harrower Laboratory, C. M. Christy, sales manager of that company, told the members of the Mail Advertisers Society of California. The advertising is in the form of postcards and lithographed letters, and the mailing list is kept up to date, he said.

The postage bill for advertising has increased from $981.03 in 1918 to $61,029.14 for 1923, he said, with the peak year coming in 1922, when $62,282.11 was spent.

There has been a small percentage of non-deliveries on mail matter of this kind, Mr. Christy said, as a return notice is printed on each piece, the correction list is kept up to date and salesmen covering the entire United States for the company keep the home office constantly advised as to changes. New names are secured from medical schools, he said.

Keep Lists Active

The firm has found that where there has been no response to mail matter sent out by the company it is better to take such names off the list, as prospects cease to pay attention to letters received from time to time, he said. Names are also taken off the advertising mailing list, he said, after personal contact has been established between the office and the physician.

"One of the prime factors in the remarkable growth of the Harrower laboratory has been the wonderful personality of the man who founded it, Dr. Henry R. Harrower," Mr. Christy said. "Dr. Harrower has always insisted that the letters shall not be of the stereotyped, rubber-stamp type, but must carry a personal message. He has always insisted that the quality of the products must be maintained always, and has never cut prices, even in the face of strong competition."

Publisher Speaks

"There is no antagonism between the newspapers and the mail advertisers," A. T. Cowan, publisher of The Glendale Evening News, told the members of the society in a brief address. "The two big factors in getting the facts before the people work together. It is to the welfare of every member of the Mail Advertisers' Society of California to keep up the high standards that have been set in the past, to make the letters they send out have the appearance of personal letters and not letters with the stereotyped look. Such a course, if followed, will not lessen the dignity of their calling."

Following the banquet the members expressed their appreciation of the courtesies extended by Al Cawood, manager of the Egyptian Village cafe, and the music furnished by the Egyptian Village cafe orchestra.

How Price Cutting Works

One of the interesting facts brought out in the discussions last night dealt with the policy of slashing prices in hopes of building up trade. It was pointed out that on a 25 per cent margin of profit, a cut of 5 per cent requires 18½ per cent more volume; a cut of 8 per cent requires 35½ per cent more volume; a cut of 10 per cent requires 50 per cent more volume; a cut of 12 per cent requires 75 per cent more volume, and a cut of 15 per cent requires 112½ per cent more volume.

An instance of the amount of new business a merchant must do to offset price slashing was shown when it was stated that a merchant who cuts his price 15 per cent on a sale amounting to $100, would have to sell $112.50 worth of additional business, or a total of $212.50, before he could make the profit he would have made on the original sale before slashing prices.

List of Those Present

Among those present at the banquet last night were: J. G. Wise, Los Angeles; Mrs. J. T. Powers, Service Multigraph company, Los Angeles; Jeanette Brown, Multigraphed Letter Shop, Los Angeles; Aimee J. Gould, Hooven Letter company, Los Angeles; J. X. Kennedy, Blums Advertising agency, Los Angeles; Miss Tibi H. Cohen, Scranton, Pa.; Mrs. H. S. Cohen, Santa Monica; H. S. Cohen, Letter Shop, Santa Monica; Frank S. "I will, if elected, always be available to the people of Los Angeles county, and promise that I will personally look after their interests, with the one aim of giving the taxpayer a square deal in every branch of the work connected with the office of supervisor. I am not affiliated with any group or clique, but I stand firmly for a square and efficient government of the people and for the people."

TOBACCO—No. 2

Chronic tobacco poisoning shows itself throughout the system, but it especially affects the nervous system and the heart. Palpitation, breathlessness upon exertion and irregularity of the heart are the chief manifestations in young smokers. In the older smokers there may be attacks of heart pains also, or a form of angina-pectoris.

Nicotine, the chief toxic constituent of tobacco, is a deadly poison. Smoking to the point where the heart is affected so weakens that organ that in severe diseases, especially pneumonia where the heart is called upon to do extra work to pump the blood through the diseased lungs, it may be the determining factor in the cause of death. Tobacco, there is no doubt about it, has been the cause of death of many people and many famous people among them. General Grant, for instance, died of cancer of the throat from smoking. Kellogg believes that President McKinley might not have died from the assassin's bullet if his heart had not been weakened by the excessive use of tobacco, because his wounds were not very great. The latest famous man whose death was probably hastened by tobacco was Steinmetz, the electrical genius. He constantly had a cigar in his mouth. This is a story said of him:

"'I saw Steinmetz one day when he wasn't smoking,' said the mayor of Schenectady.

"'Was he sleeping?'"

"'No. But I was—and the shock woke me up.'"

While it seems as though Steinmetz could not have accomplished more work in his lifetime than he did, there is no doubt that without nicotine he would have accomplished more and he might have lived much longer.

According to a paper written by a certain doctor the strongest nicotine poisoning comes, first, from chewing tobacco; second, the pipe; third, cigars; fourth, cigarettes. This doctor stated that the old idea that the most harmful form of tobacco poisoning comes from cigarettes on account of the burning paper is unfounded. I think nowadays, however, we can attribute more cases of slow poisoning to cigarettes than to other forms because cigarette smoking has increased so very markedly.

In an answer to a woman of 65 who asked me if cigarette smoking would harm her I answered that it probably would not, if she smoked in moderation; that is, four or five cigarettes a day. (In the olden days, many of the girls of 65 used to smoke pipes. That was a more harmful habit than cigarettes). But I hastened to add that Cigarette Smoking Is Harmful because those who smoke them as a rule do not smoke in moderation.

The habit of smoking has increased markedly in America among the women since the World War. It has long been the custom for women to smoke in all strata of society in most of the foreign countries.

The doctor from whose report I quoted above claims that tobacco differs from other habit-forming drugs in that instead of desiring stronger tobacco, the tobacco sales show that the milder the tobacco is the better it is liked by the smoker. However, the doctor did not observe, or if he did he did not record it, that while the desire for stronger tobacco did not develop, the desire for more tobacco in the form of more smokes did develop; and in this way as much nicotine is absorbed as through the less frequent smoking of the stronger tobacco.

Next week we'll talk more on tobacco.

PEARLS POPULAR WITH ALL WOMEN

Latest Dress Designs Show Duplication of Strand On New Frocks

By AILEEN LAMONT

Special correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—A string of pearls has a fascination for the feminine heart which no change in fashion has been able to overcome. It matters little whether the pearls be real or not. The modern woman, even one of wealth, feels about pearls a good deal like the bibulous prospector of Arizona who saw a rattlesnake wiggling across his path.

"If you are real," exclaimed the well illuminated miner, "I have an antidote on my hip and I'm going to take some of it now. If you ain't real, you can't hurt me, anyway."

Duplicate Pearls

There is no question as to the attractiveness of a loop of pearls over a dark frock. Consequently, some of the French artists of dress have designed their latest collars and necklines in exact duplication of the line of a strand of pearls. The latest tunic is of black Byzantine, sleeveless, worn over a dress of printted crepe de chine. The neck opening is long and narrow, extending to a low waistline exactly like a loop of pearls and is edged with ermine. This tunic flares from the waistline down in umbrella shape over the tight, straight dress beneath.

A similar neck line edged with white and used for a tunic of black satin through the opening of which shows a white gillet. The skirt of this long tunic is adorned with three narrow pleated panels of white, each topped with a large white button.

The design appears again, this time edged with white fox, in a fall dress of reversible black crepe satin, worn over a gillet of white, pleated georgette.

Scarfs Are Varied

As many variations as are possible with the tiles of a mah jongg set are being worn with the scarfs. The latest to be brought to this side of the Atlantic was designed by Brandt for the chorus of the Follies Bergere. It consists of a long scarf of rich material matching the gown with which it is worn, and terminating in an ostrich feather fan. This may be used as a fan or thrown back over the shoulder to float behind the wearer as a kind of train.

Even if beauty goes no farther than the skin, the newest lingerie has at least brought it that far. This has been done largely through the medium of lace and linen. The newest imported undies are of the finest of handwoven linen, topped and bottomed with broad bands of the most delicate Irish lace. The necklines are absolutely straight and the shoulder straps unusually broad, almost epaulettes, in fact. Additional adornment is confined to a single bow of ribbon, but the simplicity of the lines used and the good taste of the whole give an effect of unusual distinction.

Other Materials

Crepe de chine and triple voile combinations also use the lacy trimmings and have quite ousted chemise, knickers and camisole. With the China crepe a fine ivory colored lace frequently is used. One combination of crepe osiris is topped by Irish lace, almost the color of chamoise and covered with a quite new embroidery giving a Scotch plaid efect. Printed mousseline de soie also is in vogue, this material being trimmed with fine pleatings which form flounces.

Prospects for Shoe Industry Brighter

BOSTON, Aug. 19.—Prospects are brightening for the shoe industry in Lynn and other centers. It is expected the new agreement worked out by the state board of arbitration will bring peace to the Lynn factories. This agreement, which abolishes the five-day work week in favor of half days except in summer, has been signed by the workers and only awaits the signatures of the factory owners. Certain that peace is near, the latter are preparing to handle orders which have been piling up. There has been a general call to women members of the Shoe Stitchers' Union offering employment to all who want it. This is the first general call in ten years.

The Haverhill manufacturers will propose a substantial reduction in wages when they come to make a new agreement with the Shoe Workers' Union. The present contract expires August 27 and the workers had proposed continuation of the present scale and conditions.

Heirs Not Hairs to Be Counted at Fair

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 19.—In response to hundreds of telegrams, letters and phone calls Charles W. Paine, secretary, seventieth annual state fair, has issued the following bulletin: "I have been bribed, bamboozled, threatened and cajoled in an attempt to secure, first a bobbed-hair parade and then a long-hair parade. How these fallacious (not follaceous) reports gained currency I am at a loss to know, but they may have been the result of the prize offered by the Sacramento Chamber of Commerce for the biggest family, and in that contest bobbed hairs or long hairs do not count, it is the largest number of little heirs."

Valley Irrigators Organize at Meeting

Two meetings were held during the past week at Van Nuys of irrigators representing various sections of the San Fernando Valley. Subjects vital to the interests of water users throughout the valley were discussed. At the second meeting a permanent committee was organized for the purpose of looking after the interests of the farmers and especially those who are irrigators of the valley, and one which can represent them in all matters pertaining to the use of irrigation water and the working out of any problems which arise in its distribution. A subcommittee was also appointed which is to co-operate with the Agricultural Extension Service and any other institutions in determining if possible the water requirements of the various crops of the valley.

CLUBWOMEN PLAN MOTHERS' CLINIC

Committee Will Establish Educational Center Early Next Month

EAGLE ROCK, Aug. 19.—A clinic for mothers is planned by the Women's Twentieth Century club, according to Mrs. E. F. Nair, who has been appointed chairman of a committee to take charge of the work. A Mothers' Educational Center will be established here early in September, she states.

Dr. Maude Wilde of Los Angeles, who is actively engaged in the better baby movement at the present time, devoting all her time and interest to raising the standard of health among infants, has been secured to conduct the centre here. She will give the babies registered a thorough examination each morning on the days scheduled for her work in this locality and will make an address to the mothers in the afternoon.

To Care For Babies

At the present time her calendar of duties in and near Los Angeles is so complete that Dr. Wilde will be able to visit Eagle Rock but once each month. This schedule will be changed as soon as possible to give the Eagle Rock clinic another meeting a month.

Mrs. Nair states she will appoint a committee in the near future to supervise the weighing and registration of all babies before they go to the doctor for examination. Information of importance to mothers will be given to them by those in charge of the clinic. As Mrs. Nair explains: "Our object is to join the great movement now, commanding the interest of the whole country, to keep well babies well and also save those who have not the heritage of perfect health to begin their lives on."

Attend Lectures

The importance of this step by the Women's club is obvious when it is known that seventy-five Eagle Rock mothers are now attending the education center conducted for mothers in Highland Park.

C. A. McClintic and wife of La Roda avenue are visiting friends in Indiana and various other eastern points. They plan to extend the trip over six weeks.

Florence Fisher spent last week in Perris valley with Mrs. Lyman Brown, formerly Mildred Sassaman of Eagle Rock.

Form Study Classes In Realty Methods

TUJUNGA, Aug. 19.—Two classes have been formed by the members of the Tujunga Valley Realty Board who are taking the educational course in real estate law and practice. One class meets Tuesdays at noon in the office of J. M. Goode with Major P. J. Blake in charge and the second class meets Tuesday evenings at the home of Leo Smith with Secretary C. C. Buck in charge. Twenty-seven members are taking the course.

The Tujunga board requires that the membership include both the state and national organizations and that the code of ethics adopted by these organizations be adopted by the enrolling member. The Tujunga board believes that these requirements will indicate to the public the desire of the members to give clients the utmost in real estate efficiency.

NOTABLES GATHER AT COUNTRY CLUB

Exhibit and Program Given By Artists Enjoyed by Large Audience

BURBANK, Aug. 19.—Numbers of distinguished guests were present Sunday night at the Sunset Canyon Country club, among them the Los Angeles consuls representing England, France, Italy, Spain and Japan, the occasion being an exhibit and program by the International Artists' club of Los Angeles. The hosts were H. J. Tremain, president, and T. H. Bridges, secretary of the Country club.

The Artists' club held a picnic on the grounds in the afternoon, followed by dinner and the program, which was a very elaborate one. Among the features of this entertainment was a dramatic soprano, Irene Yost, the one who is singing the "Red, Red Rose," the love theme in the prologue in "Monsieur Beaucaire," now showing at a Los Angeles theatre. Others were a French tragedienne in recital; Hawaiian and Spanish songs and dances; Spanish guitarist; Indian dances in costume; American premier steel guitarist; concert contralto; Mexican prima donna.

Manager J. W. Charleville of the Chamber of Commerce has received a telegram from Governor Richardson, acknowledging receipt of the telegram sent by the Burbank chamber asking that the department of the southern branch of the state university be kept intact, and promising to give the matter due consideration.

B. F. Dowell, formerly chief of the fire department of Portland, Ore., together with his wife, is visiting at the home of his friend, Morris Kuhner, of this city, the two families being old-time friends. They are well pleased with Burbank, and will advertise the city on their way home, by means of some Burbank automobile stickers on their automobile.

CAMPING ENJOYED BY GIRL SCOUTS

La Crescenta Members Will Spend Day at Laguna; Fish and Swim

By MARY B. DARROW
Written for The Evening News

LA CRESCENTA, Aug. 19.—A sunny California morning in the La Crescenta valley formed a fitting setting for the Girl Scouts as they left for their first Scout camp. The large truck hired by the girls to transport them and their equipment to the camp was speedily packed and the first contingent of La Crescenta Girl Scouts left the valley for Laguna Beach. The trip was enjoyed by the girls to the utmost.

At last Laguna was reached, and the travelers enjoyed the quaint little town, conceived and planned by the artistic minds who chose this place. However, it was not in Laguna proper the Scout captain had rented a camping site, but at Goff island, a point which lies about two miles south of Laguna. Winding out of town, the hilly roads are so narrow and steep as to be uncomfortably close quarters when two cars pass.

After the tents were erected, cots and beds put in place, clothes and bags stowed away and the books put into the library, bathing suits were donned and the race for the beach was on. The tide was high, so the captain did not allow anyone to get out of bounds.

Lunch Is Served

After a swim and run up the clean beach, everyone was called to dress for lunch. The huge roast turkey mysteriously disappeared in no time and salads, beans, cake and fruit had a remarkably short existence under the onslaughts of the hungry horde.

Rest hour followed, then bathing suits again, and as the tide was lower the girls explored the rocks which make this part of the California beach resemble the Mediterranean coast through the Riviera. Summoned back to camp by the bugle, many of the explorers returned with miniature aquariums, shells, minnows and other sea life that would have done justice to the more daring brothers of the fair campers.

After the camp visitors had left, supper was served. The real fun began with impromptu theatricals, each member of the party contributing her share to the evening's fun, and stories were told till 9 o'clock, then "taps."

Girls Go Fishing

At 5 o'clock next morning there was a grey cold fog, but it did not matter to the girls, who were going fishing with no more outfit than a line, a hook and some bait procured by the simple expedient of digging snails off the rocks and dissecting then. Low tide permitted the fair fisher maids to go far out on the rocks.

Breakfast followed and after breakfast there were setting up exercises, the raising of the Stars and Stripes, the salute, bed-making and inspection. About this time a large truck from the Thomas Ince studios drove into camp with several cars of players, causing much excitement.

Swimming was next on the program, tests being passed and new tricks learned. Lunch finished up the cooked food the Scouts had brought from home, so the Scouts who had the supper term had to really cook.

CHAPTER XXX

"She must be losing her mind," Hilary thought, feverishly, in the wakeful watches of the night. And she remembered other wakeful nights, years ago, when first their friendship with Craig had seemed so all-important to her; she remembered tossing and fretting then, over—what? Over nothing, it seemed now. Only a girl's silly, sensitive imagination at work then; now there were realities over which to worry. Dora married, and having trouble with her husband! And that husband the kindest, the most indulgent of men! Hilary felt that all life was darkened; nothing could come out of this confusion but shame and suffering.

For she instinctively distrusted Dora's smooth little story, and loss of faith in her darling was the hardest phase of the whole matter to bear. If it had been illness, poverty, neglect, that she had been asked to share, how gladly she would have taken Dora home to the little Mount Holly house, how she would have consoled her, worked for her, planned for her! But this sweet and sickening poison, creeping into Dora's perfumed and soft and brilliant life, frightened Hilary. She did not know how to cope with it.

It was Hilary's custom to go downstairs at about half-past eight o'clock in the morning; usually she was alone at breakfast, and enjoyed it in the bright little breakfast room beyond the big dining room. Sometimes Craig joined her, but he was not very regular, and she never waited for him.

On the morning after her white night, feeling tired and still fearful, even after her hot bath and leisurely toilet, Hilary was going quietly through the upper hall on her way downstairs when Dora's bedroom door suddenly opened, and Dora, the picture of utter desolation, appeared in the doorway, and said her name.

"Come in here!" said Dora. Hilary with all her half-formed apprehensions returning in definite shape, and with redoubled force, went to the door and looked in.

Dora's bed was tumbled; she immediately sprang back among her pillows. Craig, with his face very grim, turned from one of the big windows, glanced at Hilary unsmilingly, and again turned his back.

"Craig is going away, Hilary," Dora said in a nervous, high voice. "He doesn't want any breakfast——"

"Going away?" Hilary asked, her heart lead.

She had to repeat the question before Craig turned, and said quietly:

"I'll put up at the club for a while—I'll let you know where I am——"

Hilary looked in sick amazement from one to the other.

"Oh, what is it!" she faltered, all her anxiety and love for them both in her voice.

"It's simply that I like to have my friends as well as anybody else," Dora began, proudly, as Craig kept silent.

"Sorry to drag you into this, Hilary," Craig said, suddenly, coming toward her, and paying no attention to Dora. "I have asked her to do what I don't consider a very important thing for me—she prefers not to——"

"Only to give up a friend who has always been very charming to me, that's all!" Dora interrupted hotly. "Only hurt the feelings of a man——"

"I will not return to this house while that man has the entree to it," Craig interrupted, passionately, in his turn. "Make him what presents you will, meet him where you like, if that's what you want," he added, bitterly, "but don't let me ever see him again!"

"Say to him, 'Cecil, I'll have to meet you out at the Museum, and then we can have tea at Childs'!" Dora retorted, angrily. "I'm sorry, Craig, but even to please you, and to give you the full run of all the big hotels, so that you and Violet can have tea together——"

"Butterfly!" Hilary said, sorrowfully.

"Well, ask him if he didn't meet Violet and take her to tea the very day she got back from getting her divorce in California," Dora said, resentfully, after a brief pause.

"This is ridiculous!" Craig said hotly. "Her mother wired me from Maine, asked me to meet Vi, and put her on the afternoon train. I hadn't seen her for two years; she'd been with Cissie in California, getting her decree. I showed the wire—but it's too preposterous to discuss!"

Hilary looked at Dora, confident that there would be at least an attempt at justification. But Dora pouted and looked down, and satisfied herself with saying mildly:

"Well, isn't that all I said?"

"Craig, you know she didn't mean anything——" Hilary began, placatingly.

"I ask you!" Dora interrupted her sharply, "whether a married woman is expected to give up all men friends for ever! Men don't do it, and why should women? Craig is making a fuss about nothing——" She fell silent, and there was a pause.

A frolicsome farce is "The Love Test," now showing nightly at the tent theatre of Murphy's Comedians on Stocker street, Casa Verdugo, at the corner of Central avenue. A large audience again last night greeted the play, which, according to Manager J. A. Menard of these players, is enjoying its initial Pacific coast showing here.

"The Love Test" is from the clever pen of Joseph P. Judge. It is of the hilarious rural type, the dramatics strong and the comedy keen. All classes will enjoy this play, and children are finding it one of the funniest shows they have yet seen at Murphy's tent.

TELEGRAM TELLS WEDDING TIDINGS

Edna Mae Lawson Married To 'Casey' Stengel In Belleville, Ill.

A telegram was received late yesterday afternoon by Mrs. J. W. Lawson of 225 North Brand boulevard, telling of the marriage yesterday, Monday, August 18, 1924, in Belleville, Ill., of her daughter, Miss Edna Mae Lawson, to Charles D. "Casey" Stengel of the Boston Nationals, and hero in the world series of 1923, when he played with the New York Giants.

The meagre announcement contained in the telegram is the only word Mrs. Lawson has had of the wedding. Her daughter and Mr. Stengel have been engaged about a year, she states, but they had not planned to marry until fall, after the baseball season was over. She expects they will go to Chicago and travel about the east until the end of the season, when they will come west for a visit with Glendale relatives. The first news Mrs. Lawson had of the wedding was a telephone message from The Glendale Evening News at noon yesterday stating that Miss Lawson and Mr. Stengel had taken out a marriage license.

Uncle Wiggily

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE GRINDER

"We must soon go away from here," said Nurse Jane to Uncle Wiggily one day as they sat on the porch of their driftwood bungalow at the seashore, and looked out across the sand and waves.

"Leave here—leave the beautiful seashore and summer not yet half gone?" cried the bunny rabbit. "Why so, Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy?"

"Because my scissors are dull," she answered.

"Because your scissors are dull!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "That isn't any reason at all for leaving the seashore now."

"Yes it is," answered the muskrat lady housekeeper. "I want to make a new dress. To do that I need to cut out the cloth with my scissors. And my scissors are so dull they will hardly cut warm butter. So we must go back to our hollow stump bungalow in the woods. There I know a scissors grinder dog gentleman who will do the sharpening for me."

"Nonsense!" laughed Uncle Wiggily. "I can find a grinder here at the seashore, I am sure. I'll go look for one and soon your scissors will be so sharp as never was."

"All right—if you can find a grinder," spoke Nurse Jane. "I don't care whether he is a dog gentleman or a pig gentleman, as long as he has a whibble izzle stone that shoots sparks and will put a sharp edge on my scissors."

"I will go look for a grinder," said Uncle Wiggily. Away he hopped from the drift wood bungalow, over the sands by the edge of the sea.

Pretty soon Uncle Wiggily saw, just ahead of him, on the beach, a little old donkey gentleman with a pack on his back.

"Hello there, you grinder!" cried Jolly Uncle Wiggily, "please sharpen Nurse Jane's scissors."

"I am no grinder!" brayed the donkey.

"You have a pack on your back," said the rabbit.

"I am selling shoe laces and collar buttons," brayed the donkey. "Hop along, you may find a grinder before dark."

So Uncle Wiggily hopped along and pretty soon, down the beach he saw an old bear man with a pack on his back.

"Hello, grinder!" called the rabbit uncle.

"Burr! Gurr!" growled the Bear, who was very cross and savage. "I am no grinder!"

"You have a pack on your back," said the rabbit.

"That is a box, in which I carry something to eat—when I have it!" growled the Bear. "But just now I haven't anything to eat! I am hungry! I am going to nibble your ears!"

"Oh, please don't," begged the bunny.

"Yes, I shall!" growled the Bear. But, all of a sudden up out of the ocean popped an Old Man of the Sea. On his back was a pack and in the pack was a grinder machine, for he sharpened the scissors of the Mermaids who made dresses for themselves from seaweed.

"Here! You let Uncle Wiggily alone!" shouted the Old Man of the Sea. With that he started his grinding machine to whizzing. Around and around swung the grinding stone. The Old Man of the Sea held his grinder against the sharp teeth of the bad Bear. He ground the Bear's teeth down so they were short, and stubby and dull.

"Now you can't nibble Uncle Wiggily's ears!" laughed the Sea Man.

"Gurra! Gurra! No, I can't!" growled the Bear, and putting his empty lunch box on his back again away he lumbered, shaking his head.

"Thank you for saving my ears," spoke the rabbit politely. "And will you please come and sharpen Nurse Jane's scissors."

"I will," kindly said the Old Man of the Sea, and he did, so the rabbit could stay at the seashore a bit longer. And if the rubber ball doesn't fall in the ink well and splash molasses onto the parrot, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's bird kite.

PIRATES PROVING BETTER THAN N. Y.

Pittsburgh Has Chance to Beat Giants In Race For Pennant

By JOHN B. FOSTER
Special correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—If the Pittsburgh team can keep up the lick it has been hitting since it reached New York on its second eastern trip on July 30, the month of September may see a shindy between the Pirates and the Giants quite as good as that which is going on in the American league.

Why this unexpected winning streak in which the Pirates have so unmistakably taken the Giants into camp? It looks as if batting has done it. In the last lot of games between the two teams the Pittsburghs have been batting at the rate of 281 against the New York pitchers and the Giants have been going 251 against the Pittsburgh pitchers. The disparity between the figures is plenty large enough to account for a lot of the lickings that the Giants have received.

But, after the Pirates are finished with the Giants, they must still figure that all the eastern teams are as strong as the Giants and play them accordingly if they expect to be in at the championship hunt. Pittsburgh often has exhibited a great deal of slam against New York only to slough off elsewhere.

Giants May Rally

The Pirates already have won 11 games from New York in the season, so that it is impossible for them to lose the year's series between the two clubs. That would be quite an honor in itself, but it will take more than that for them to win the pennant. The Giants have experienced these little episodes before and have rallied because of their ability to take hold of a weaker team and shake it until its teeth rattle.

The Giants have been going at the rate of a trifle less than eight hits per game while the Pittsburghs have been registering a little less than nine hits a game. Off-hand, one hit in a game would not seem to make much difference one way or another, but it often accounts for a lot in major league baseball, especially if it happens to be the one hit that sends home the decisive run. If you figure a whole season's benefit to a team at the rate of one hit per game, you will give the team that profited 154 more hits for the season than any other team and that is some advantage.

The Pittsburgs accuse the Giants of trying to rough it against them in New York. The Giants seem to think that the Pirates have passed a retaliatory resolution at home and are working it out on their own diamond. The result is that the games are being played with all the bases guarded on both flanks and the runners are compelled to take all the corners at right angles.

Each team has enough experienced men to know how to "play 'em close" in professional baseball and the Pittsburgs still harbor resentment against something or other that Casey Stengel is said to have done when he was a Giant.

Last year the Giants won nineteen games from Philadelphia and Pittsburgh won thirteen. That of itself would have beaten the Pirates out of the championship if they had not lost the series to New York. This year they have won more games from New York with another series to play than they did all last season.

Beat Back Fire That Threatens Yosemite

FRESNO, Aug. 19.—After a fight in which hundreds of men had been thrown into the battle lines, the great Sweetwater forest fire in Mariposa county, which for days has been menacing Yosemite National park, was today reported under control by M. A. Benedict, forest supervisor. Back-firing proved effective after the fire had burned over 30,000 acres of brush and timber land.

The forest fire in the region of the south fork of the Merced river was finally checked and under control today by a crew of ninety government men operating under the direction of the national park service.

Confident that the fire has been definitely placed under control, Assistant Chief Ranger Clyde Booth who has been directing operations, sent seventy men to their homes in Yosemite valley and remained on the fire line with a skeleton crew of twenty men.

SEATTLE BEATEN IN TENTH INNING

Tigers Take Final Game and Series; Hannah Is Hero Of Close Contest

By C. R. SIMMONS
For Southland News Service.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 19.—Vernon's Tiger kittens won a ten-inning contest yesterday from Seattle's Indian braves, 6 to 5, thereby taking the series, four games out of seven. And it took "Truck" Hannah, the clawin' catcher, to drive in the winning run after hope forlorn among the married bleacherites who foresaw cold suppers unless something desperate was done.

Yep, Truck tucked in his shirt and landed the ball against the fence, good for two bases any other time, but he essayed to quit at first with Warner wandering toward the clubhouse after scoring clean. The other five tallies by Vernon were rung up in the first inning, many thanks to Jimmy McDowell's homer with bases two-thirds filled.

Groat, youthful Caltek pitcher, was yanked in the second after beaning Lane, who had complained to Umpire Carroll about the mean delivery. The little Indian center fielder was out for five minutes. Jimmy Christian pitched good ball for the winners the rest of the way.

After the first inning, Vean Gregg of the Siwashes tightened up and kept the Tigers' hits well scattered until the extra inning, his teammates tying it up in the eighth after scoring in the first, second and third cantos.

Minus his valise, but in the presence of his owner, Bill Klepper, Manager Frank Brazill and his Portland Duckies were on hand to witness their adversaries win and get a few hints as to how to play the rest of the week in their series with Vernon. It was a rare opportunity of "seeing others as others see us," to borrow a poet's potatoes.

Kid Sullivan Victor Over Pepper Martin

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—Friends of "Kid" Sullivan, junior lightweight champion, pointed today to his victory over "Pepper" Martin last night as proof that Sullivan's win over Johnny Dundee was not a fluke. The champion decisively defeated Martin, winning eight of the 15 rounds, with four even. Martin was badly battered at the finish.

Mandell and A. Walker Fight Ten-Round Draw

CLEVELAND, Aug. 19.—Sammy Mandell, the fast and flashy boxer of Rockford, Ill., and Archie Walker, who hails from the New York ghetto, fought ten fast rounds to a draw here last night.

FIRPO WINS IN COURT DECISION

'Wild Bull of Pampas' Has Case Delayed Until After Wills Fight

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—Luis Firpo, "Wild Bull of the Pampas," won the decision in his first battle in a court room today.

The South American heavyweight pugilist, through his lawyer, Hyman Bushel, obtained a postponement of the hearing of perjury charges against Firpo until September 20, which is nine days after the date on which Firpo is scheduled to battle Harry Wills, negro heavyweight, at Boyle's thirty acres in Jersey City.

Answers Preacher's Charges

Firpo appeared in the court room of United States Commissioner Hitchcock in answer to an affidavit filed by Rev. William Sheafe Chase of New York, charging Firpo with perjury in connection with his recent entry into the United States and asking a warrant for Firpo's arrest.

Commissioner Hitchcock's decision followed a lengthy and sometimes hot argument between Attorney Bushel and Dr. Chase. The commissioner first set the hearing for tomorrow, but Bushel objected, asking the hearing be set for September 20, on the ground that Firpo's rights would be infringed by setting the date so early.

SILVA WILL MEET RIVERS TONIGHT

Capacity House Expected at Vernon Arena to Watch Boys Strut Stuff

Teddy Silva and Georgie Rivers will provide the main excitement at Jack Doyle's Vernon arena tonight when they meet in the big event of a well-filled card. Silva is looked upon as the favorite, although both boys boxed a fast draw recently at Hollywood. A capacity house is expected to be on hand to watch the battle.

Bobby Corbett and Alex Maurice will mix in the semi-windup. Corbett has pleased fans with his style of fighting, while Maurice has clearly demonstrated that he carries a wicked left. Johnny Lamar and Eddie Diggins will appear in the special spot.

Other bouts on tonight's card are: Jack Griff and Trench King, 125 pounds; Tony Fuente and Harry Freeman, 175 pounds; Freddie Ellis and Danny Duarte, 135 pounds, and Harry Foley and Young Lancho, 128 pounds.

Woman Is Injured In Freak Auto Accident

VALLEJO, Cal., Aug. 19.—Mrs. J. W. Elston, San Francisco, is in Vallejo general hospital today, seriously injured, following an unusual accident in which she was struck by an automobile on the Napa road within five minutes after another machine had struck down the driver of the Elston car while he was preparing to change a tire. A motorcycle policeman had pulled alongside of the Elston car immediately after the first accident and was taking a report of the occurrence from Mrs. Elston, who had alighted and was dressing the cuts of the man when a machine driven by R. Ochoa rushed by, knocking her to the pavement.

Hudson Will Produce 100,000th Car Soon

DETROIT, Aug. 19.—The Hudson Motor Car company expects to turn out the 100,000th car for the year about September 1. More Essex and Hudson cars have been sold to date than in the entire year of 1923. Many departments of the Hudson plants are working day and night and Essex outturn is expected to be double that of last year.

An American explorer reports finding Pygmies, averaging four feet in height, in Central Africa.

Prince of Wales Will See Wills-Firpo Bout

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Aug. 19.—The Prince of Wales will occupy a ringside seat when Firpo and Wills clash at Boyle's Thirty Acres here on September 11. The Polo Association has reserved a bloc of 200 seats for His Royal Highness and the polo players.

The Prince is a dyed-in-the-wool boxing fan and attends many bouts while in London.

Tunney Retains Title In Fight With Lohman

COLUMBUS, O., June 19.—The light heavyweight crown still adorns the brow of Gene Tunney, Greenwich Village idol, today, after the champion's scheduled 12-round go with Joe Lohman of Toledo.

In the seven and one-half rounds before Referee Matt Hinkle stopped the fight, claiming it was too uneven, the challenger kissed the resin five times, the result of Tunney's bullet-like rights to the stomach and lefts to the jaw. A technical knockout was credited to Tunney.

Industries Employing More Men In Detroit

DETROIT, Aug. 19.—Industrial employment here increased by 938 workers in the last week. The total in the Employers' association plants now is 195,829, compared with 217,570 a year ago.

CLOSE-IN HOME Tile Bath and Sink $6500—$2000 Cash

You may have looked at many of the 5-room houses which are being offered at approximately $6500. If so, you will be in a better position to appreciate just how much more you are being offered in this home.

The location is ideal. Close in, and yet in a restricted locality, with attractive homes all around it. Wonderful view of the mountains.

Construction is the best. Not built by ordinary contract labor, but instead by a skilled builder who does practically everything himself, and who takes pride in his work. Large porch at front and rear. The living room is large, with a real fireplace. Batchelder tile mantel. Dining room attractive with every necessary built-in convenience. The kitchen is ideal, tile sink, of course, and every little feature which a woman appreciates. No nook but instead a delightful little breakfast room, for table and chairs. The screen porch is roomy with a place for refrigerator, electric washer, broom closet, etc. The bedrooms are large with plenty of room for twin beds if desired; light and attractive, with plenty of closet space. Tile bath, with shower.

You can't find the equal of this house in Glendale for the price, only $6500, and a $2000 cash payment will handle.

Dietrich's Best Buy

On North Maryland (joining Brand Blvd., in rear, right in the heart of Glendale's Best Business District), a large 6 rm. home on a lot 50x140.

This is a good Home—not new—BUT REMARKABLY WELL BUILT—with good basement and Furnace. The living room is very pleasant, with real fire place, and stone mantel. The Dining rm. faces Maryland and has good buffet and plenty of light. The three bed rooms are good size and have large clothes closets. The front bed room opens off living room and hall both, and could be used for library or den, if desired. The Kitchen is also large with full cupboards, cooler, flour and sugar bins and good nook. The back porch is large enough to be used as a room.

The lawns are good in the rear as well as the front. There is plenty of shrubbery, good shade and fruit trees.

A double garage completes the requisites for a good Home.

Best of all, this is a fine buy from a speculative standpoint. Some time in the not distant future, all of these lots adjoining Brand Blvd. frontage will sell at a tremendous profit, over present prices.

We offer this property, at the value of the lot alone, $10,500. Takes only $2500 to handle.

NEW YORK CLOSING

By W. S. COUSINS
For International News Service

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—The reactionary movements which broke out intermittently in the stock market today were not able to gain much headway. Profiit taking in the market speculative leaders appeared to be easily absorbed, and bullish factors dominated the market for industrial and railroad stocks, though the volume of trading in the latter was comparatively small. Motor and oil stocks supplied the activity which has been largely monopolized by the rails in recent sessions, the oils showing a tendency to rally in good form on a small volume of sales.

Steel stocks were strong today. Stocks of the silver and copper producers also reflected the decided improvement in the metals trade which the last few weeks have ushered in. With copper close to 14c a pound and a great expansion in electrical work imminent, the copper companies are about to move from the pauper class. United States Smelting was again the leader of the low-priced copper stocks with an advance to a new high at 36.

Industrial specialties composed a strong feature of the market. Union Tank Car climbed about 6 points higher, to 126; Allis-Chalmers made a 4-point gain, and sold at a new high at 64; Sloss-Sheffield, at 75, was up nearly 3 point, and in new high ground for 1924; United States Rubber showed no disposition to halt in the forward movement which has been under way since last Thursday; textile company stocks were helped by reports of resumption of operations of important mills, and the results were apparent in the case of one active stock by a lifting of professional selling pressure.

Baldwin broke through 123 for a few sales, but the bulk of transactions were above that price.

Grain markets were irregular, with losses of 2 to 3 cents a bushel in wheat and corn; cotton was steady, up about $1.50 a bale; foreign exchange steady; money in good supply and discounts firm.

T. R. Robertshaw Appointed As Distributor Here for Ready-Cut Homes

Of outstanding interest in local home-building circles is the announcement just released by Pacific Ready-Cut Homes, Inc., of the appointment of T. R. Robertshaw as the new distributor and builder of Pacific Homes in Glendale and surrounding districts. Mr. Robertshaw and staff succeed the Low Building company, which firm has represented the large home-building organization for the past two years in Glendale. The Low Building company is closing its local office and relinquishing the territory completely, and Mr. Robertshaw, it is stated, will have entire charge of the local district and will assume responsibility for the sale and erection of these homes.

It is the intention of Mr. Robertshaw to develop and offer the most complete home-building service, and for the past two years he has been busy establishing offices at 133½ South Brand boulevard (with Dietrich Realty company), and making necessary arrangements. He will not only handle the sale of Ready-Cut Homes in Glendale but will assume complete responsibility for the erection, employing local crews of plasterers, plumbers, painters, roofers, tinners, masons and other tradesmen.

Well Known Here

Mr. Robertshaw has a large number of friends in Glendale. He formerly resided here for many years, but during the past three years has been in charge of the sale and distribution of these homes in Huntington Park, where he has sold and erected over a hundred homes.

With his host of friends in Glendale and his reputation for building substantial homes indications of continued success are evident. Mr. Robertshaw's brother, C. K. Robertshaw, who formerly resided in Glendale, is the general factory superintendent for Pacific Ready-Cut Homes, Inc.

It is the plan of the local distributor to arrange a liberal financing policy that will permit of home building on terms that will be similar to rent, yet it is his intention to erect the homes without an extra charge for the cost of underwriting the loans.

Invites Inspection

The local office is now open and Mr. Robertshaw has issued an invitation to all previous purchasers of Pacific Homes in this district to visit him, and is inviting prospective home builders to his office so that he can discuss his service with them.

New booklets of homes, recently issued by the parent organization, are available at the local office. These booklets show the latest plans and designs released by the architectural department and in addition to these booklets Mr. Robertshaw has more than one hundred special plans on file of four and five-room homes in English, Spanish, Colonial and Dutch architecture.

The opening of the new Piggly-Wiggly store in Van Nuys next Saturday will mark the first step in the completion of San Fernando valley service by the California Piggly-Wiggly company, according to announcement by President Arthur C. Jones. Two more stores are to be opened in the valley this summer, making a total of five, covering the important centers of population and extending Piggly-Wiggly service throughout the valley.

Lankershim and Glendale now have Piggly-Wiggly stores. Van Nuys, after the coming Saturday, will also have a unit of this national chain of serve-self groceries. Within the next sixty days stores will also be opened in Burbank and San Fernando, completing the chain here.

In the Los Angeles district, the Piggly-Wiggly company now has a total of forty-two stores. Ten additional establishments are to be opened this year, which will bring the total number of new stores established during 1924 to twenty-nine.

Ethel Shannon, prominent motion picture star, will forsake the blazing Kleig lights of the studios Saturday afternoon, to go to Van Nuys, where she will act as official hostess at the opening of the new Piggly-Wiggly store. President Arthur C. Jones of the California Piggly-Wiggly company, and other officials, will also be present at the opening.

—By Gil A. Cowan—

It takes Councilman S. S. Gilhuly to tell of the devastation done by forest fires in the remote mountain sections of this state which he has just visited.

And it takes Councilman Sam Davis to tell what effect the automobile is having on the small towns of the east.

All of which shows Glendale people that by traveling one learns. If you have the wherewithal and the opportunity, take a trip some place. What you see, what you learn—and what you will unlearn!

H. Thompson Rich of The Glendale Evening News staff has just returned from Ensenada, Mexico, and W. S. Ingram is headed that direction from San Diego today.

It is hoped by the writer that both will be able to transcribe El Heraldo de Mexico and other Spanish papers with the greatest facility henceforth in gleaning nuggets of news for this paper.

All joking aside, The Glendale Evening News has provided itself with news and feature services seldom seen in cities of this size.

The International News Service leased wire brings the very latest world news, the Consolidated Press association offers such feature writers as David Lawrence, Robert T. Small, Walter Camp, John B. Foster, J. C. Royle and a host of others; the Southland News Service covers Los Angeles and southern California, the Central Press association gives pictures, cartoons and sporting news; the George Matthew Adams features include Dr. Lulu Hunt Peters, Edna Kent Forbes and Laura A. Kirkman writing on home and health questions; and from McClures' Newspaper Syndicate come the Uncle Wiggily cartoons and pictures, the serial stories and other valuable material in the making of a complete newspaper.

It is a great line-up of which we are duly proud.

It is the pleasure of the writer to review the news of the day as it occurs in Glendale. Now, glancing cursorily through the proofsheets of a newspaper is no small task and it is notable that Glendale has a goodly share of local occurences worthy of news space.

Indeed, considering that this is not a county seat and lacks the spicy gossip of the courts; that this is a peaceful community devoid of major crimes; that this is not a financial or shipping center, one cannot help but comment on the consistency of interesting events and wholesome activity.

The schools, the churches, the civic and social and women's clubs, the building progress, the local celebrities and so on through the list provide an intelligent public with mental occupation as well as physical recreation.

As criterion of the community, the local columns indicate that Glendale is far above the average.

And that's all.

Van Wie's Fish Story Sounds Awful Fishy

A. J. Van Wie, Glendale city clerk, returned with Mrs. Van Wie Saturday afternoon to their home at 667 Salem street, after a two-weeks' vacation at El Capitan and Pismo Beach, with the biggest fish story heard this season.

He was fishing at Pismo Beach Thursday afternoon, August 14, exactly at 3:47½ o'clock, according to his faithful chronometer, he states, when suddenly there came a mighty tug at the line. Gripping his well-known pipe a little tighter between his teeth, Mr. Van Wie prepared for the struggle.

But, strange to say, the fish was docile. It cruised slowly up to the dock, warped into a berth and, surveying its captor saucily, cried out: "Davis, Gilhuly, Hall, Kimlin, Robinson."

So profound was the effect of this mystic incantation on Mr. Van Wie, according to his wife and their two sons, Spencer and Edwin, that the city clerk's mouth popped open, the pipe dropped out—landed in the fish's mouth, and the finny cruiser of the deep cast off his moorings and vanished in the offing, a thin cloud of familiar smoke trailing behind him.

Visitor Asks Return Of Strayed Bicycle

Jimmy Sparks, a youth who is visiting in Glendale, has appealed to The Glendale Evening News to aid him in finding a bicycle which was taken some time Saturday afternoon from in front of a local theatre. The bicycle was borrowed from a playmate by Jimmy and he feels that, unless the bicycle is recovered, he will have to pay for it. The bicycle has a green frame, Jimmy says. Anyone finding a stray bicycle with a green frame is asked to call Glendale 2932-W.

SAVANT REVEALS LIFE ON PLANET

Professor Zantippe Claims Existence Thrives on Far Off Mars

"Life exists on Mars. It not only exists, it thrives."

These were the first words uttered to the waiting millions by that world-famous scientist and explorer, Professor Xavius Zantippe, who knows the unknowable, speaks the unspeakable and unscrews the inscrutable, a man of weak mind and strong imagination.

Several months ago Professor Zantippe mysteriously disappeared from the public eye, after waging an acrimonious and futile campaign for the position of Toastmaster General. At the time grave fears for his safety were felt by everyone but his wife, but in a few days he was forgotten, his memory blotted out by the headlines of some newer horror.

It now develops that all the while the learned professor was secreted in the depths of the Los Angeles river, waiting with water glass and microscope until the psychological moment when Mars should be so many miles or so nearer the earth than it has been for ever so long, or even longer.

Bares Martian Life

"Yes," went on Professor Zantippe, so excited he could scarcely wait to be interviewed, "never mind all these preliminaries. The readers of The Glendale Evening News are bored to death with your long-winded introductions. Get down to cases, young man. I have made a momentous discovery and I am in a hurry to get home to supper. What do you want to ask me?"

"Why—er—that is, what sort of life is it that exists on Mars?" ventured the reporter in a timid voice.

"Thrives, not exists!" he thundered. "Didn't you hear me say life THRIVES on Mars?"

"W—what sort of l-life exhi—that is, thrives, on Mars?" falteringly. "Human life?"

Professor Zantippe shuddered. "Inhuman life! Dastardly, despicable, swinish life!" he exploded. "Why, those Martians aren't fit to associate with decent people. They," leaning forward and whispering in a low voice, they . . ."

In Dead Language

"Marcy sakes!" cried the reporter, blushing. "Not when anyone's looking?"

"I was looking, wasn't I, young man?"

"I don't know. You say you were. What else did you see?"

"Well, now, let me recall. Oh, yes, I saw a——"

"Xavius!" suddenly shrilled a shrewish voice. "Don't you dare tell that to that young man! The idea! Imagine such a thing in The Glendale Evening News! Haven't you any reserve?" It was Mrs. Zantippe.

"I am afraid," sighed Professor Zantippe, bowing so low he bumped his forehead on the doormat, "that I will have to inscribe my findings in Latin and present them to some high school. They must never be known!"

And bowing low, he slammed the door gently but firmly in the reporter's face.

Drives Off Burglars; Own Home Is Looted

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 19.—Kenneth Baughman, who lives at Baseline boulevard and Indian Hill avenue, Claremont, prevented burglars from looting the home of his neighbor, but he couldn't keep them out of his own house.

When he heard burglars in the Wayne Mathews home he rushed into the orchard in the rear and fired both barrels of his shotgun. A man and woman fled in a small coupe. Then they went to the home of J. E. Webb, six blocks away, it is alleged in the report to the sheriff's office, and they were scared away from there by a dog, loose in the house. After that they stole some household goods from T. R. Lindsay, Pomona. Then they returned and loaded their coupe with loot from Baughman's home, who had left for downtown.

Dead Chickens Thrown By Road, Is Complaint

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 19.—An open county road is one place to dump dead chickens by the score, in the opinion of Edgar Archer, 7626 Whittsett avenue. He complained to the sheriff's office that people are making a dumping ground on the left side of the Long Beach car line at the 76th street stop. Most of the things thrown away there, he says, are dead chickens, and from them is wafted an unhealthy odor, he asserts. The complaint has been turned over to the county health department.

Sues for Commission On Turas Club Sales

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 19.—The Las Turas Lake club has been made defendant in an action filed by E. J. Steinke, one of its former land salesmen, for $1150, alleged due on commissions. Steinke sold a number of lots in the Malibu mountains in Los Angeles and Ventura counties, he claims, to residents of Burbank, Glendale, Compton, San Pedro, Long Beach, Wilmington and other places.

Celebration to Mark Dawes' Notification

CHICAGO, Aug. 19.—Banners and bunting bloomed from nearly every house and tree in Evanston today as that exclusive suburb planned for the influx of 100,000 visitors tonight when Brigadier-General Charles Gates Dawes is notified that he has been selected as the Republican vice-presidential candidate. Fireworks and bands will help make a regular old fashioned jubilee of the occasion.
